Council invests in BAIS computerized system

Elk Point Town Council received a demonstration of the computerized Business Attraction Information System (BAIS) last week, when Walter DeSilva of the St. Paul / Smoky Lake Business and Community Development Corporation visited their April 9 meeting.

DeSilva told Council the BAIS program started in 1989 in Eugene, Oregon, and when it came to Lloydminster in 1990, it was the first program of its kind recorded in Canada. Elk Point became involved through the import replacement project of the North East Marketplace in 1993-94.

The concept matches up products and services offered in the area with people who need them, which results in both saving money and keeping it in the area. "Great success stories" came out of the Lloydminster program, during the building of the oil upgrader, DeSilva said.

Fourteen communities were involved in the North East Marketplace, which over two years, "accomplished 85% of what it set out to do," DeSilva said. Each community set up a data base of businesses, "but the data base was not used as extensively as it could have been." Community information was also fed into the data bases.

The BAIS system, which contains the information from the North East Marketplace and more, can now be used "as a springboard for economic development," to provide information to current businesses and to those who plan to establish businesses. It can be used for business promotion, marketing and the creation of community profiles, and can have pictures and graphics added to the community's lineup. This information can then be accessed for use in creation of community brochures, and can be sent anywhere in the world via electronic mail, on disk or in hard copy.

DeSilva also talked about the province-wide electronic network which is being set up with a comprehensive directory of goods and services. At the current time, northeast Alberta, with 3800 businesses listed, is the only entire region involved.

The electronic media is expected to be the only way to access information on government contracts in the near future.

Program costs, which include an annual subscription fee, the initial cost of gathering information, the applicable computer program and the modem, are eligible for financial assistance of up to $10,000 in matching grants to communities, or up to $50,000 per region.

Council was also visited by FCSS Director Deanna Easthope, who was present for the proclamation of April 21 to 27 as Volunteer Appreciation Week in Elk Point.

A delegation from the A. G. Ross Arena Operating Committee, consisting of president Dave Cousins, treasurer Yvette Bochon, and Agricultural Society treasurer Betty Callbeck, attended the Council meeting to discuss their financial situation. Over $100,000 of the $243,000 portion of the Ag Society debt taken on by the Operating Committee a year ago has now been paid off, thanks to generous donations and nonstop fundraising, and Ms Callbeck said the Committee "felt it was important to let you know

WINTER UNDER THE BRIDGE -- Spring thatws filled the seasonal creeks and drainage ditches in Elk Point last week with the cheerful chuckle of rushing water. Businesses in the southeast portion of town received more runoff than they really wanted, with a number of lots and adjoining fields flooded briefly when the ditches overflowed. Town Public Works Superintendent Ron Fraess told Council that the phone calls he has received regarding plugged culverts and approaching flood waters "are a sure sign of spring."

County predicting $550,000 surplus

A preliminary budget predicts a $550,000 operating surplus for the County of St. Paul in the coming year.

The budget, which has not yet been finalized by the County, outlines plans for substantial reductions in transportation spending, Reeve Ray Danyluk said this week.

"We're cutting construction of roads approximately in half this year," he said. "Instead, we're going to place a high priority on maintenance. The graders will be on the road, and instead of building more, we're going to try to protect what we have."

Other highlights of this year's budget are the major reduction in provincial grants — which are expected to be some $400,000 less than was received last year.

There will also be a gain in tax income of over $200,000, due to enhanced assessment values, he said.

"It's not because of an increased mill rate — we do want to stress that."

Quebec visitors to be welcomed with jamboree tonight

F.G. Miller High School welcomed 22 students and two teachers from Mont Rolland, Quebec to their midst yesterday, as the second half of their Alberta - Quebec exchange program got underway.

To welcome the visitors, the F. G. Miller Crusaders are hosting a Multicultural Jamboree, featuring local singers and dancers, including the Elk Point Ukrainian Dance Club, St. Paul's Les Bles d'Or, cowboy poet Old Jake, and more. This event is planned for Tuesday, April 16 at 7:30 p.m. in the F. G. Miller High School gym, and everyone is welcome.

Beware of deer!

Elk Point RCMP have released the results of a collision analysis for the year of 1995, which showed that 70 percent of vehicular damage from collisions in the Elk Point area involved deer.

It is believed that collisions with deer are where we stand." She said the Committee will be able to refinance their loan after their November payment has been made, and would hopefully be able to shrink the payments to a more reasonable amount at that time. In the interim, Cousins said, expenses are rising and although a lot of volunteer work has been done, "the money just isn't coming in like it used to." He thanked the Town for the operating grant, and said that it will help to keep the facility operational, although a shortfall on covering expenses is still expected. The Ag Society had hoped to retire the debt against the tennis court with this year's provincial grant, but that may not be possible if the funds are needed to make loan payments on the arena and fairgrounds facilities.

Several appointments were made at the April 9 meeting. Councillor Bill Schuhmacher was appointed to represent Council at the Heart of the Lakeland Destination Marketing Organization, Councillors Mae Hendrickson and Louis Verhagen were appointed to the Disaster Services Committee, and Lorraine Kirychuk was appointed to the Library Board.

Water, sewer and garbage collection rates will remain the same, thanks to a resolution passed by Council. Rates for the ball diamonds, concession booth and sanitary facilities were discussed, but were tabled for further deliberation.

Joly and McCarthy have been appointed to conduct the 1995 audit.

Council did not agree to a request for financial assistance for an additional portable toilet for use by the soccer club, but will relocate the unit used for the north ball diamond to accommodate soccer players as well.

responsible for over $100,000 in damages during the year.

No particular month showed a higher rate of collisions than other months, but the analysis reflected that most of the collisions took place during the dark hours of the day.

The RCMP would like to remind the motoring public that deer are nocturnal animals, which is the reason for the dark hour collisions. They also noted that deer are usually found in small groups.

When you are travelling the highways and sideroads, please be on your guard for any indication that these animals are on the highways or ditches, as it may save your life--and your vehicle.

From the FCSS desk...

Volunteers vitalize Alberta communities!

By Deanna Easthope

FCSS Director

From making posters for arts festivals to sweeping sidewalks for seniors, volunteers make the world — Alberta — and Elk Point — go round.

The week of April 21 to 27 has been declared National Volunteer Week, a time to acknowledge and thank the many individuals who donate their time to enhancing their communities.

Across Canada, 5.3 million Canadians volunteer annually, contributing an average of 191 hours each year. According to Statistics Canada, Albertans are the most generous in Canada, with four out of every ten persons involved in volunteer work.

Stats Can also says that 56.5 percent of Canadian volunteers are female, 37 percent are between 35 and 45 years old, and 64.2 percent work full-time. The collective value of volunteer time is estimated at $16 billion per year, or $78 million for a community of 100,000 citizens. These figures are quoted from "Alberta Connections, Spring 96."

For Elk Point, a town population of 1400 people, if we were to take the above figures and use them as an estimated volume for our volunteers in Elk Point, we would come up with the following: Each volunteer contributes about $780. With a total of four out of every ten persons doing volunteer work, Elk Point can estimate about 560 people doing volunteer work. Their total cost to the community of Elk Point would be about $436,800. However, one could argue that in our small town community of Elk Point, almost everyone volunteers for something, sometime, or many times over. We have a very volunteering community. Our volunteers are the lifeblood of what happens in our community of Elk Point.

Volunteers vitalize our community of Elk Point. We say a great big THANK YOU to all of you, and we want you to know that we appreciate you! Let us all recognize each other. Monday, April 22, 1996 is Volunteer Spirit Day. All year long, volunteers put their hearts into their causes. So on Monday, April 22, wear your cause next to your heart. Join volunteers across the country in celebrating the spirit of Volunteerism by wearing a pin, T-shirt, ball cap, uniform or whatever you have that shows that you are a part of the volunteer force in Elk Point and that you are proud of it.

Water safety must start now

Water, water everywhere.

While we may not be at as much risk from major flooding as areas along the major rivers of southern Alberta, Elk Point and district has had at least its share of meltwater problems. Fields have become lakes, trickles have become torrents, gullies have become roaring creeks.

All these bodies of water have a great attraction for children. We, ourselves, as children, waded out into sloughs past the tops of our rubber boots, and launched shaky rafts made of fenceposts, old doors, and anything else that would float, as we paid joyous tribute to the coming of spring.

What we didn't think about at that time, but are now concerned with, as parents and grandparents, is safety. Tragedies such as the Edmonton youngster who fell through the ice on Mill Creek last year, and an American tot who was swept down a storm sewer have hammered home the fact that water and ice have a very real danger to consider.

Children drown not only at the lakeshore in summer, and when left unattended in bathtubs and wading pools, but in the icy waters of winter and spring. It is up to us, the older generation, to make sure this doesn't happen. It only takes a few inches of water to drown a child, and the footing around these instant lakes and rivers is slippery and treacherous.

Contrary to what the mother whose seven-year-old flew a plane into the ground last week said, we don't all want our children's happiness so badly that we will let them risk their lives to achieve it.

And parents -- stay off those lakes. The ice is starting to get dangerous.

THERE IS A BEAUTY to the skylines of places we know; they seem to call us to come home. This view is Elk Point, from the southwest corner, coming north from the Water Treatment Plant, or the Golf Course — or as I think of it, from the cemetery. (March 1990) Before long, these elevators will be gone, and our skyline will change forever.

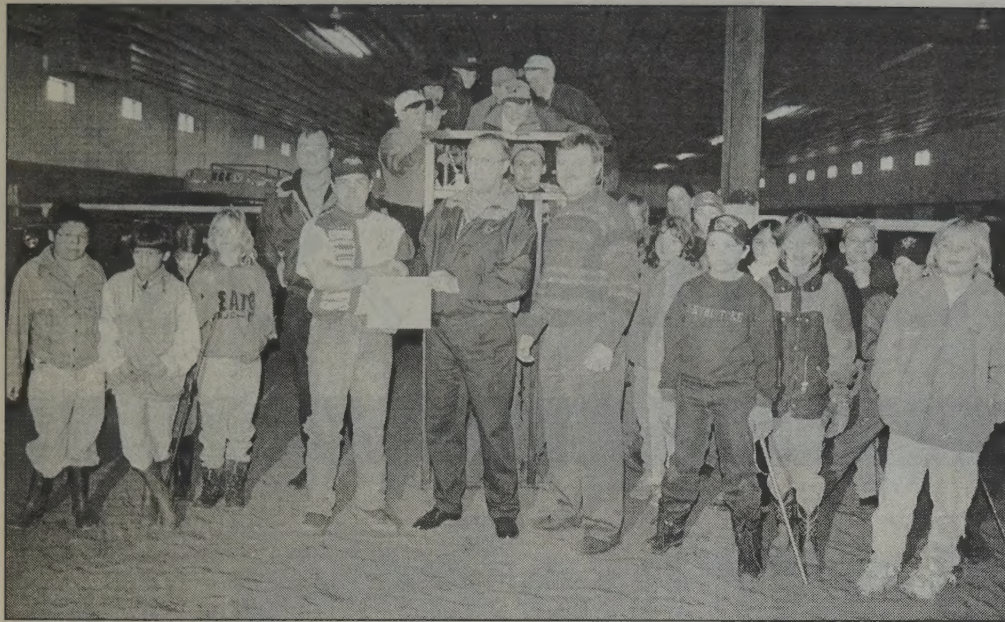

A LOVELY SKYLINE greets us as we approach the prairie town of Viking; we almost can gauge its main industries from these towers, tanks and lack of trees: a prairie farming centre, cool under the January sun. (1991)

"MARCH BRINGS BREEZES LOUD AND SHRILL" to melt the snow, the sloughs to fill. This is the skyline of the Anderson Gas Plant, near Fairview, where my son Mel goes to work each day. Natural gas is piped for many miles, to be 'sorted' at this plant, then pipelined on to south of the border. (March 1990)

SUNSET GLOWS over "our" town, sparkling the steeple, glinting on the drifts, outlining the Fort George Manor, picking up the mural, and identifying the curling rink and mural, after a major snowfall leaves scarce marked drifts, perhaps in January 1990.

TRIMMING CHUTE PRESENTED -- United Farmers of Alberta Member Relations representative Jerome Stang, Area Manager Doug Lindquist and local delegate Lawrence Ference presented a clipping and grooming chute to the Elk Point 4-H Multi Club for use by all the members, who will be able to take the chute to their farms to trim animals prior to Achievement Day, as well as using it at the Achievement Day in Elk Point and at the District Show in St. Paul. Stang told the club members that UFA is very happy to work with 4-H in this way.

4-H holds Mini Achievement Day

By Taralee Babenek

Club Reporter

Elk Point 4-H Multi Club held their Mini Achievement Day on April 14, 1996. Most of the members were there with one of their animals. The 4-H animals were well behaved. There were a few escapees, but no major runaways.

Jerome Stang, Doug Lindquist and Lawrence Ference of UFA were on hand to present the club with a grooming chute. The club is very grateful to get this chute. It will be well used. Thanks to UFA for their support to the 4-H club over the years.

Kevin and Jennifer Wirsta put on an excellent grooming and showmanship workshop. They brought in an animal to demonstrate clipping and grooming on. The workshop was very informative and beneficial to the club members.

Tim Havener put on a productive and fun rope halter making demonstration / workshop. He had everyone, including the parents, making a rope halter.

The club's next meeting is April 17 at 7 p.m. in the Horizon Room, A. G. Ross Arena.

County predicting $550,000 surplus

Part of the reason for the County's strong surplus is a change of mind by the provincial government, which had planned to do away with the lucrative Municipal Assistance Grant this year. The province decided to hand out grants one more time in 1996, bolstering the County's coffers by some $358,000.

Danyluk said Council decided to "bite the bullet" and devote that money, along with the rest of the surplus, to paying down last year's $684,000 deficit. "Instead of taking it over three years, we're paying more right now so we don't face as much when the MAG is gone," he said.

At the County's annual general meeting on Tuesday, a representative of the auditing firm Deloitte and Touche gave ratepayers a summary of the County's 1995 financial statements.

She noted, among other things, that the proportion of County income supplied by provincial grants had shrunk from 44 per cent in 1994 to 24 per cent in 1995.

Conversely, sixty-five per cent of County expenditures went to transportation last year, as compared to 77 per cent in 1994 and 69 per cent in 1993.

APRIL SALE

What's news at the library?

Can spring finally be here?

By Michele Duczek

Librarian

At the risk of it blizzarding yet again, I will dare to suggest that spring may (finally) be here. Now we can all complain about how late the summer is (just kidding).

The biggest new this week at the library is Marie Hays. She has just started a six month

OBITUARY

BABENEK, Nettie

On April 8, 1996, Mrs. Nettie Babenek of Elk Point passed away at the age of 82 years. She is survived by 3 sons and 3 daughters: Bill of Fort McMurray, Richard and his wife Mary of Edmonton, Ed and his wife Elaine of Elk Point, Olga Dmytrash of Myrnam, Marie and her husband Walter Lesyk of Elk Point, and Roselynn and her husband Ed Nazarchuk of Elk Point; 15 grandchildren; 11 great-grandchildren; 4 sisters: Mary and her husband Mike Pelech of Elk Point, Annie Wirsta of St. Paul, Katie Trach of Edmonton, and Alice Rawlyk of Edmonton; 2 sisters-in-law, Nancy Mudryk of St. Paul, and Annie Mudryk of Edmonton; also numerous nieces and nephews. She was predeceased by her husband Fred in 1987; her parents, William and Tekla Mudryk; and 5 brothers, Bill, John, Steve, Peter and Dan.

Prayer Service was held Wednesday, April 10 at 6:00 p.m. at St. Vladimir Ukrainian Orthodox Church, Elk Point. Funeral Service was held Thursday, April 11 at 2:00 p.m. at St. Vladimir Ukrainian Orthodox Church, Elk Point. Reverend Father J. Lipinski officiated with interment in the church cemetery.

Yewchin's Funeral Chapel Ltd., St. Paul, 645-5177.

term of employment at the library and will be helping to clean up our computer catalogue in addition to other duties as needed. Come on in and say hi.

There is a mixed bag of new books at the library this week:

There is a new movie James Bond, and Goldeneye by John Gardner is an adaptation of the screenplay from his latest cinematic adventure. Join 007 as he tries to prevent a greedy and ambitious Russian kingpin from gaining possession of a piece of technology that could destroy the West's financial markets.

Laura Ingalls Wilder: A Biography by William Anderson is a detailed account of one of America's best loved writers. It traces the events that inspired her stories and tells what happened in her life after the last Little House book ends. Includes pictures of Laura and her family.

Poulette the chicken dreams of becoming a ballerina. When a snobbish peacock named Percival moves into the barnyard, Poulette challenges him to a talent contest and gets all the chickens to help her put on a ballet in Hen Lake by Mary Jane Auch.

A vacation cruise gets out of hand when a group of playful pigs come on board for some fun in Pigs Ahoy! by David McPhail, a delightful rhyming tale that might have you shouting "Pigs ahoy!" at the end, just like the narrator.

Skitty, the ugliest dog in the world, is back in That Magnetic Dog by Bruce Whatley. In this outing, Skitty's owner explains how Skitty attracts food, and people too. Like Whatley's earlier book about Skitty, the illustrations are hilarious and really demonstrate the dog's delightful personality. A great read-aloud for kids. Don't forget to check out Skitty's first outing in The Ugliest Dog in the World.
